Foresees Era of Nuclear Standoff

U.S. Winning Cold War — McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told Congress the United States is entering an era of a nuclear standoff with the Soviet Union—a time when neither can launch a nuclear attack without getting one in return.

But despite that prospect, McNamara declared this country intends to win the cold war and "I believe in a reasonable sense of the word we are winning."

"Our objective," he said, "is defeat of the Communists. I do not believe we can achieve that victory by engaging in a strategic nuclear war. I think that kind of stalemate will become increasingly more controlling with the passage of time."

McNamara dealt with this potential "mutual deterrence" during six days of closed-door hearings which began Feb. 6 before a House Defense Appropriations subcommittee that questioned him about the Pentagon's budget.

A censored transcript of his testimony was made public today. "In no sense of the word is there no Soviet nuclear superiority today," he asserted, "nor is there nuclear parity measured in terms of numbers of weapons."

Regardless of his theory of mutual deterrence, McNamara preferred not to describe it as a stalemate. "Stalemate implies lack of action and I visualize our military program leading to quite the contrary," he said. "I visualize it leading to action in the foreign policy field."

The American aim is to "advance the cause of freedom throughout the world," he said, "and to do this in a way that protects our own national security, which means we are not prepared to destroy our nation in the process of attempting to advance the cause of freedom."

Patchen indicated that supplies will be arriving from Pittsburgh within the next two weeks to stock the two shelters. The goods will include barrels for water storage, medical supplies, high-calorie, high-nutrition biscuits and perhaps gas masks and radiological equipment.

Two other top seniors at Greenford High are Richard Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnold of RD 4, Salem, and Nancy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller of RD 1, Canfield. Richard acquired a scholastic average of 3.673; and Nancy, a scholastic average of 3.480.

The four students will be speakers at commencement services May 29. Baccalaureate is scheduled May 28.

Russian-Built MIGs Strafe U.S. Vessel

Incident Occurs Off Cuba Coast; Report Says Ship Not Hit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The captain of the merchant ship Floridian said today two Soviet-built MIGs fired shots across the bow and stern of his vessel Thursday 20 miles off the coast of Cuba and he flashed an immediate distress call to the Coast Guard in Miami.

U.S. Navy jets from Key West, Fla., did not reach the scene of the incident until 55 minutes later, the second engineer, Norman Teeple, of Dan's, Fla., reported.

"The planes appeared and circled the ship for about 20 minutes," Capt. Curtis Olson told a news conference aboard the ship shortly after the Floridian reached here under escort of U.S. fighter planes.

'Couldn't Happen to Us' After the first firing pass by the hostile jets, Olson said, his reaction was: "This couldn't be happening to us."

It was the second incident of its kind reported in a month. Two MIGs with Cuban markings fired at a U.S. shrimp boat 60 miles off the Cuban coast last month. The vessel was not hit.

The Floridian was traveling at 15.4 knots when the planes approached and stepped its speed to 17 knots during the strafing, but remained on normal course, Olson said.

The third firing pass was across the bow at less than 100 yards, he said.

Heard First Burst

Radoman Donald Fisher said he was off duty and just "roaming around the ship" when he heard the first burst of fire and "someone said, 'Oh, that was just a sonic boom.'"

Fisher lives at 51 Redlands Road, West Roxbury, Mass.

"Then we saw splashes and we knew it was no sonic boom."

He estimated the first shots were at 5:40 or 5:45 p.m. and he sent the first distress call at 5:55 p.m.

Olson said 15 to 30 shots were fired by the planes on their third pass.

"They were explosive shells," he said. "They exploded in the water and I observed a pale gray smoke."

Photographed MIGs

Harold Keane of Philadelphia, chief mate, photographed the MIGs in action, Olson said, "but I believe those pictures are in Washington now."

Olson said he was on the bridge when the first shots were fired "without warning." He identified the shots as coming from machine cannon.

"The planes were very dark green in color," he said. "There appeared to be a white or tan circular insignia around the fuselage, but we could not make it out."

Poor Relief Plan Okayed

Senate Passes Bill In Party Line Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Party lines held firm Thursday as Senate Republicans pushed through a bill compelling relief recipients to work for their keep.

In a monotonous series of roll calls, all of which ended up with 19 Republicans on one side and 12 Democrats on the other, the majority beat down a series of Democratic amendments and then passed the bill and sent it to the House.

Legislators of both houses have started their weekend and will return to work Monday night for the 13th week of the session.

Democrats as well as Republicans praised the theory of work relief on grounds that it is a healthy thing for the recipients.

Its sponsor, Sen. Roy B. Gardner, R-Richland, estimated furthermore that it will save the state $1 million a year—money which could better be allocated to education, he said.

The word "chiseler" was used only once in the 75-minute debate which preceded passage of the bill, but elimination of chiselers from welfare rolls is the clear intent of the measure.

Work relief is permitted by present law, but not required. Many counties already have such programs and have had ever since the Depression of the 1930s.

The proposal applies only to able-bodied "employable" persons.

One in the series of Democratic amendments beaten down was by Sen. Oliver Oakes, D-Summit, who sought to provide that work shall be required of relief recipients only when work opportunities are available. Oakes held that the wording of the proposal could deprive a recipient of relief through no fault of his own simply because no work projects were available. Sen. Theodore M.

Amil Dinsio, Pals Await Hearing

Robbery Suspects Plead Not Guilty

Three Mahoning County men, caught at Turkey Run Truck Stop with $10,000 worth of stolen coins and other goods, entered pleas of not guilty to charges of possession of tools and implements used in burglary and possession of concealed weapons at arraignment Thursday night in Eastern County Court in East Palestine.

A preliminary hearing has been set for Monday at 1 p.m. before Judge Herbert Arfman for the defendants, Amil Alfred Dinsio, 26, of Calla Rd., North Lima, and Daniel N. Marshall, 33, and Harold J. Dailey, 32, of Austintown Township.

The trio, trapped at 3:15 a.m. Thursday after a stakeout at the Turkey Run restaurant-gas station by Columbiana and Mahoning County sheriff departments, have refused to waive extradition to West Virginia.

Charged With Robbery

Sheriff Russell VanFossan, who led the stakeout, said Weirton warrants charge the men with robbing the home of Gene D. Costalas, 67-year-old Weirton amusement company operator, only two hours before their arrest at the truck stop on Route 14, one mile east of Columbiana.

Costalas told Weirton police he was watching television at 1 a.m. when three armed men broke into his home. The bandits tied him to a chair with rope and wire and ransacked his house.

Using a crowbar, they ripped open the safe and took about $900 in money and some 200 rare coins in his collection.

The Weirton businessman examined the loot and identified the rolls of money found in cigar boxes in Dailey's convertible as the cash taken from his safe.

The trio's attorney, Jack Nybell, waived the readings of charges filed by Columbiana County authorities and entered pleas of not guilty.

Judge Arfman set bonds at $10,000 each on the charge of possession of burglary tools and $2,500 each for carrying concealed weapons. The men were returned to Lisbon jail in lieu of bond payment.

Two guns, a .32 caliber pistol and a .38 pistol, were found in Dailey's 1962 convertible when

Outlook for Business Good

National Output Estimate Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A perceptible brightening of the business outlook has caused the administration to boost—unofficially—its estimate of national output in 1963.

The pickup now foreseen is too slight to cause a drop in the high rate of unemployment, official sources said, but it should prevent any further rise in joblessness and has virtually dispelled fears of a recession this year. It also could improve the federal budget outlook slightly.

Highly sensitive business indexes now point to a better than anticipated spring, but the tipoff to a shift in administration thinking came from Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, in a speech last Monday to the Magazine Publishers Association.

State Drops Baker As Planner For Route 62

The State Highway Department today terminated the Route 62 engineering study contract it had with the Michael Baker Jr. company of Rochester, Pa., but reinstated the firm for engineering work for a seven-mile portion of Interstate 680 from the south corporation line of Youngstown to the Ohio Turnpike.

Michael Baker had been doing the engineering work for the relocation of U.S. Route 62 in Stark, Columbiana and Mahoning counties. In this connection, Salem interests have been urging a relocation of '62 close to Salem for its contemplated juncture with the Lake Erie to Ohio River road, which is in the process of construction.

C. H. (Red) McKeever, chief engineer at the Columbus office of the Ohio Department of Highways, told The Salem News today that "Baker's contract on Route 62 was cancelled because it is felt that the Highway Divi-

Cuba Tension Renewed After Attack on Ship

Russian Troops In Cuba, Exile Raids To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called the executive committee of the National Security Council into session today amid a new wave of tension over Cuba.

The inner strategy group, formed during last fall's Cuban crisis, was faced with these developments at its noon meeting:

1. Thursday night's report by a U.S. vessel that two unidentified jet planes shot at it in international waters off Cuba's north coast. The 4,900-ton ship, the Floridian, unhit, sailed on toward Miami under U.S. air escort.

2. The withdrawal of Soviet soldiers from Cuba, which the United States deems disappointingly slow. Latest U.S. estimates place 13,000 to 14,000 Soviet military personnel still on the island.

Hit-Run Raids 3. Hit-and-run raids by anti-Castro exiles, which Washington fears could make the Caribbean situation worse.

Word of the attack on the Floridian was announced by the State Department Thursday night.

It said the U.S. Coast Guard reported receiving a message from the U.S. motor ship—en route from San Juan, Puerto Rico, to Miami—that at about 6:05 p.m. "two unidentified jet aircraft had fired bursts across the Floridian's bow and stern without striking the ship."

Beyond this, Washington authorities had few details.

Last month two MIG jets with Cuban markings fired on a U.S. shrimp boat, the Ala, while it was drifting, its motors out of commission, in the Florida Straits about 60 miles off the Cuban coast.

U.S. Protesters Attack The United States vigorously protested the attack and Kennedy ordered the Defense Department to make sure that "action will be taken against any vessel or aircraft which executes an attack against a vessel or aircraft of the United States over international waters in the Caribbean."

The Castro regime denied its planes had fired on the shrimp boat, which was not flying a flag.

On the Soviet troops question, U.S. sources said several hundred more Soviet personnel have been observed leaving Cuba since Kennedy estimated March 21 that 3,000 troops had been pulled out. Some 400 were reported to have steamed from Cuba aboard the Soviet liner Baltika last weekend.

With the latest estimate of Soviet military strength in Cuba at 17,000, the withdrawals would lower the number left to less than 14,000. This is a slower withdrawal rate than Washington had hoped for and authorities said it is not yet known here what kind of personnel have been sent back to the Soviet Union—whether combat sol-

Newell Man Hurt In Traffic Crash

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol investigated two Thursday afternoon traffic mishaps, in one of which a Newell, W. Va., man was hurt.

The injured man, George Bourne, 41, is listed in fairly good condition at East Liverpool City Hospital with lacerations of the left eyelid and forehead, contusions of the nose, and abrasions of the left knee and leg.

Bourne was hurt at 3:30 p.m. when his car went off the right side of Route 170, about one mile north of Route 30. He lost control of the vehicle and went left of center. His careening car struck another operated by Elmer Matheny, 51, of East Liverpool, then went off the highway again and struck a power pole.

The patrol cited Bourne for reckless operation.

In the second traffic mishap Mrs. Violet Lennens, 31, of Chester, W. Va., complained of a sore chest after her car was sideswiped by another at 5:35 p.m. on Route 30, about one mile north of East Liverpool. The patrol said Earl Davis, 41, of East Liverpool was the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Lennens' as he was attempting to pass.

Of Interest to Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Labor Department report showing a further increase in the cost of living due mainly to higher food prices has come at a time when federal farm officials are claiming that food prices are too low.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has said in recent speeches that food is a bargain in the United States because the "farmer has been, and is, subsidizing the consumer."

Freeman aides cited these speeches in offering comment on the Labor Department report.

"It is hard to believe, but it is true," the secretary has stated. "We have heard so much for so long about subsidies to farmers that we no longer look to see what actually is happening."

Freeman says that had food prices increased as much as the cost of other goods and services, American consumers would be paying $4 billion to $6 billion more a year for food. The national food bill now exceeds $50 billion a year.

The secretary has stated that because food prices have not increased as much as other items in the cost of living index, the average housewife has an extra $100 a year to spend for other things.

"Thus the complaint over subsidies has all but drowned out the fact that, even including the payments made to farmers (by the government), the food we buy today takes less of our income than it did 10 years ago," Freeman has said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture department reports that restriction policies adopted by the European Common Market have raised the price of U. S. poultry to importers from 36 cents to 44 cents a pound in West Germany.

Reopening of Rogers Dump Expected

ROGERS — The reopening of the village dump for use by Middleton Township residents was the subject of a special Village Council meeting last night in the Community Hall.

The dump, closed last December because of use and misuse by persons not of the township, is expected to be re-opened soon, pending approval of the Columbiana County Health Department.

Plans discussed at last night call for the issuance to Middleton Township residents of permits for the use of the dump. The permits will be checked at the entrance to the dump.

The village of Rogers will pay the rent for the dump ground, and will pay wages of one man to oversee the dump and its usage. Middleton Township trustees will maintain the entrance to and exit from the dump, and will treat the dump contents every 60 or 90 days, according to the directions of the county health department.

A contract concerning the dump will be drawn up between the Village Council and township trustees soon. Mayor Robert McCreary, and Councilmen William Crawford and Glenn Baker will meet at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Council's next regular session will be at 7 p.m. Monday in Community Hall.

TWENTY-EIGHT persons took the civil service examination this week in Youngstown for the job of Leetonia post office substitute clerk, postmaster James Stewart said today.

The new substitute clerk to be employed will take the place of regular clerks Elmer Jackson or Amelia Sullivan in case of sickness, vacation or other absences.

The successful applicant will take the place of Marion T. Weaver, who retired a month ago after 36 years service.

Salem to Leetonia to Columbiana

We would like to see Columbiana County commissioners give serious consideration to a Leetonia group's suggestion of a new highway extending from Salem to Columbiana by way of Leetonia.

Such a road is needed and could be used advantageously by thousands of persons who normally travel over Alternate Route 14 or by way of zig-zag secondary roads.

And, the construction of such a highway, linking the three communities and adjacent rural territories probably would be aided through the utilization of existing roadbeds at some points along the way. We believe, as the Leetonia Ruritan club does, that a new highway is needed; that all three communities would benefit thereby, and that it would help to ease traffic congestion on other roads, few of which go east-west.

The club is to be commended for recognizing the need and adopting the project as a part of its rural service work.

It is entirely possible that Salem Township trustees and the county commissioners could get state secondary road funds to assist with the financing. It would be easy to find out.

Back to the Boondoggle?

If the Kennedy administration's hope for establishing a 1960 version of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s becomes a party showdown in Congress, the issue should be defined bluntly.

It will be whether the United States should capitalize on the good name earned by the CCC in the Great Depression of the First New Deal and the Second New Deal.

Throughout the '30s anything that would give a man a job seemed to be worth trying. That was where the famous apple sellers in New York City came from. It was a stunt for selling apples that was twisted by the propagandists of the political opposition into their favorite vignette of economic desperation.

When the Roosevelt New Deal launched what were to be a succession of agencies for making jobs with the expenditure of public funds, everything was experimental.

Besides all the permanent benefits that came from its program of using tax revenue and an increasing federal debt to underwrite a public works program, there also came a weird offshoot called "boondoggling."

BOONDOGLING flourished under WPA—Works Progress Administration.

It was a kind of tolerated featherbedding—a way to make it possible for men to draw benefits by going through the motions of performing work that did not need to be done.

It was of many varieties, ranging from useless leaf-raking to questionably useful book-writing and picture-painting. And its cumulative impact on the public mind as more and more examples came to light was painful in the extreme.

Americans learned to hate the thought of forcing their fellowmen to go through the

We Don't Even Know Ourselves

When it's all over and the feathers have fluttered to the ground, all of us may know one another better.

It has taken all this time to strike up a reasonable acquaintanceship with the British but we still don't pretend to understand them any better than they pretend to understand us. We are baffled by their socialism as deeply as by their version of plumbing.

We're still trying to comprehend the Germans—those strangely methodical people who alternately behave like pet sheep and ravening wolves.

We've been unable to get the hang of the ing with their relatives. We can't understand how the same people can be so completely efficient and woefully inefficient at the same time.

The Japanese are too much for us. We once prided ourselves on being on an even footing with the inscrutable Chinese, in the sense that we thought we knew what they would do next. Then look what happened! This time the Japanese are inscrutable, far more so than when they shattered their image at Pearl Harbor. Who knows what they will do next?

And the French...

Ah, the French. Their Gallic realism staggers us when it takes the form of attempts to assassinate the head of the country and of bitter enmities that are encouraged to run on and on until no blood remains to be

Aggravations

"Don't get aggravated."
"Stay cool under the collar."
"Quit being upset about things you can't change."
"Don't worry."
"Take it easy."
"Stay calm."

Have you been given any of this advice recently? Have you been reading books or magazine articles on how to be tranquil and have peace of mind?

Have doctors been telling you, "Umm, this doesn't look good, but don't worry. Spend the next six months in a better climate and be sure to have your personal affairs in order."

Are you fed up with people who tell you how to avoid heart trouble, peptic ulcers, spastic colitis and headaches by pretending you are a child vegetable? Especially when these same people, themselves, are as jumpy as frog legs in a hot skillet, with the frog still attached?

And is it beginning to bug you like a sticktight in your pajamas that everybody seems to be converted to a philosophy that the way to stay in one piece in atomic society is to feel no concern about what is going on, because it is no business of yours?

And are you beginning to wonder what is admirable about sleek, contented people who take no more interest in the passing scene than a herd of dairy cows?

To get to the point, there was this gem of good advice about making a list of your aggravations.

So after finding a pencil and a piece of paper (why are they always so hard to find when you need them) I jotted down my list.

The idea, is you get all the unprintable intolerable, scurrilous, scabby stuff in plain sight—so you objectify it—then start to feel better.

It was no trouble making the list. I put down 12 master categories without hesitation. It wasn't until I got to subclassifications under subheadings that I had to think.

It added up to about 200 things that keep me aggravated, hot under the collar, worried, tense and upset.

All these things I am supposed to brush off as if they were dead flies, bread crumbs, or dandruff. They aren't. They are ants. They do not intend to be brushed off.

They stay in my hair, scamper into my ears, crawl up my nose and down my back. They give me ants in the pants and skeeters in the tweeters. No matter how calm, cool and collected I aim to be, they upset me. I wouldn't want it to be any other way. It's the penalty of being alive.

Effective Process Needed To Deal With Strikes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The New York newspaper strike has had a profound effect on the nation. The theory that "it can't happen in free America" obviously has been proven fallacious. A large community, comprised of millions of citizens, has been deprived of its own newspapers—a contingency which our forefathers considered serious enough to cause them to insert a specific provision in the press of the press by government anywhere in the United States.

But apparently nobody thought then that private groups could do what the government couldn't do and yet be immune from any penalty of law. Today the powers of a "private government" exceed in many respects the powers of the national, state and city governments themselves.

Assuming that both sides in a labor dispute feel justified in pursuing their own objectives from an economic, or even sociological, standpoint, there is still a crucial question that has gone unanswered. Does private power that damages and inflicts substantial losses, financial or otherwise, on other groups of citizens have an unlimited and unrestricted scope of operation?

THE RIGHT to strike has been imbedded in federal and state law. The right of an individual to work or refrain from work is supposed to be immune from interference. But it isn't. A picket line intimidates and often forcibly prevents a man from going to his job.

He, in effect, has lost in free America his right to work.

The Constitution gives liberty of action to the individual, but it hasn't bestowed such a right on groups of citizens. Congress has enacted laws granting to unions the right to bargain collectively and to strike collectively.

In the New York newspaper strike, the members of several unions which had no part in the "bargaining" done by other unions were thrown out of work. Employers in self-protection had banded themselves together to bargain as a unit and to refrain from publishing when their competitors were being shut down by a strike.

Public officials from the President down took a "hands-off" attitude for a long time. Express-sions of disapproval were later voiced, and the governor of New York and the mayor of New York City took a hand separately in actually trying to bring both sides together.

But even then there was no compulsion about acceptance of mediation or of the proposals of a mediator. The strike has drifted on for nearly four months.

A settlement will be no solution to the problem itself—how to achieve the goals of each side without a strike or coercive tactics.

The issue now goes back to the American people. Costly strikes cannot be tolerated, since they bring financial disaster. The wages lost will never be recovered. The profits lost will also never be restored.

The question is whether economic damage and the distress inflicted on the community will be ignored or some effort will be made to find a legislative remedy.

A solution can come only through the law making process. Disputes in labor-management relations which lead to big strikes are a form of war. How can wars be settled or prevented except by the force of reason and a formula that compels the acceptance of reasonable proposals offered by a court or disinterested tribunal?

THE ABSENCE of any effective machinery to deal with strikes is tragic. Several steps now might be taken. Individual labor unions could be required to abide by the wishes of a national committee or federation of labor leaders.

Employers could be required to submit to the decision of a national board or committee composed of representatives of employer interests.

No individual of course, should be permitted to serve on such a committee in dealing with any case if he has an interest in any company or union organization that is a party to the dispute.

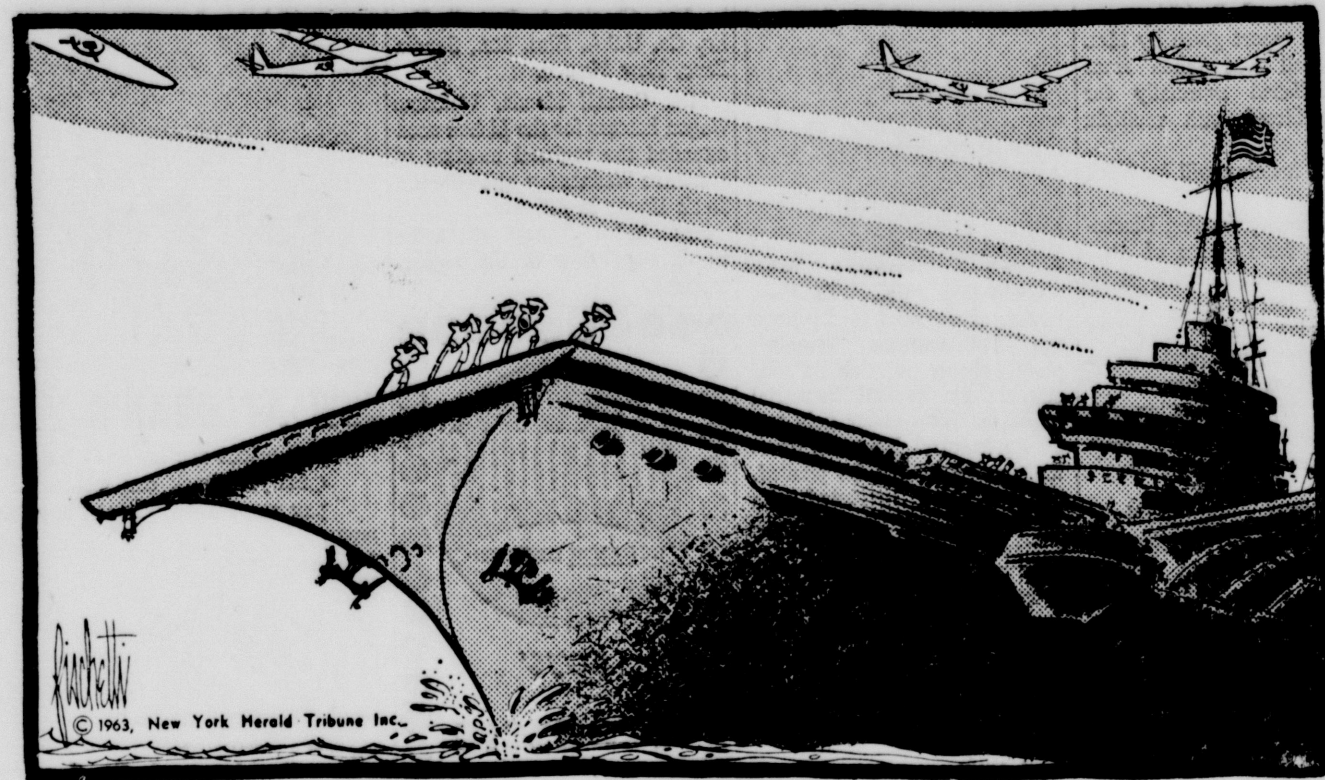

At this stage this is not the same thing as arbitration. It would still be a process of negotiation through a disinterested study of the issues on each side by men who would accept the responsibility for making recommendations.

Congress could require that the essential financial facts be made available by the use of the subpoena power, and it could be provided by law that settlement proposals agreed upon by the two national commissions could not be disregarded and a strike called.

If, however, the two commissions couldn't agree, each of the two groups could be required to choose a board of arbitration whose decision would be final.

No formula will seem attractive to those who have heretofore been given a free hand. But the consequence has been a form of economic anarchy, the recurrence of which must be prevented.

The New York newspapers strike may still serve a salutary purpose if the deep-seated feeling of protest which has swept the country is recognized by congress as a mandate to exercise its law-making power to protect the "public interests"—a much-abused phrase so frequently uttered by politicians but rarely in fact applied.

"Smile! You're on Candid Camera"

Disillusioned Communists

By VICTOR RIESEL

I used to "ride gun" for a rather prominent labor leader during the weeks after he broke with the Communists. We used to meet on upper Broadway on alternate corners and snake our way downtown. Melodramatic, yes. But so be it. He knew the insides of the apparat. If anything was going to happen, he wanted it to break in the presence of a newsmen. Melodramatic, yes. But so be it.

Now another has broken away from the Communist machine—and his story makes Alfred Hitchcock's tales sound like an afternoon with the Audubon Society—birds and all.

The latest to come out of the Communists' international apparatus is a chap for whom I've waited 25 years—John Santo, once the national general secretary and national director of organization of the Transport Workers Union (TWU). He developed a brogue and passed himself off as Irish, though he was a planted Hungarian Communist.

HE WAS ORDERED into the TWU because of the Leninist theory of concentration on the bottleneck industries of capitalist lands. He was in the full sense a revolutionist.

But for decades he denied every charge, every exposure, and smeared those of us—TWU officials as well—who fought him.

Finally in 1949, after an eight-year fight during which a Communist front raised over $100,000 in his behalf, and after being ordered deported, he went back to Hungary.

After the grim holocaust of tanks in 1956, he revolted in Budapest, broke and ran for Vienna with the Freedom Fighters. There he was contacted by my late good friend, Roland Elliott, with whom I worked in defense of the Tibetan Dalai Lama. Elliott talked to Congressman Francis Walters.

This past March 1, John Santo talked his heart out, told of his own darkness at noon, before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

THERE WERE MANY reasons for Santo's disillusionment. There was, for example, the moment in Budapest after the Soviet tanks had smashed the revolt.

"I have seen innocent blood shed," said Santo, "without any pretext or provocation at all. I recall that during the second attack by the Russian Red Army forces, tanks were patrolling the streets simply for the purpose of terrorizing the population. . . . Bread was scarce, and a line formed before a bakery. . . . One of the Russian tanks pulled into position and shelled that breadline, killing mercilessly women who simply wanted to assure a loaf of bread for their families."

How did John Santo get to Budapest?

Back in '47, the Justice Department was breathing down his neck. They had him. He had been, according to his own words, "... a Communist journalist, organizer of the unemployed, Section Organizer of the Communist Party, Bronx, City of New York. . . . a member of the District Bureau of the State Committee of the Ohio District of the Communist Party, member of the Trade Union Commission for New York (State) . . ."

BEGINNING in '47 word came that the apparatus wanted him in Hungary. He was advised to see the ambassador of Communist Hungary Edre Sik, in Washington.

Santo saw him in the spring of '49. Sik told him to get the approval of the American Communist Party—nothing like going through channels.

And those channels, according to Santo's testimony in Washington some weeks ago, were none other than a man known as Joseph Peters—the same "J. Peters" whom the late Whittaker Chambers called the "Comintern rep" (Communist International Representative). Peters was Moscow's account executive in charge of the United States.

Chambers, in his testimony, identified J. Peters as his superior and "head of the underground section" of the Communist Party of the United States. Chambers, at that time said it was Peters who had assigned him to liaison and other duties with the party's underground in the nation's capital, and had introduced him to Alger Hiss and other Communists working in the federal government, according to the House Committee record.

In Santo's testimony before the House Committee, he said, "Through Peters, I applied for a decision of the secretariat of the central committee of the Communist Party of the U.S."

Santo then added that he believes the American Communist Party had direct contact with Ambassador Sik.

THEN, AS SANTO related it to the Committee, Peters invited him to a party in the Bronx. There he met leading Communists in a private apartment. This was in March 1949.

Ambassador Sik took Santo into one of the bedrooms. The diplomat, who had come secretly from Washington, gave Santo a Hungarian passport.

The ambassador first filled it out himself, inserted Santo's photograph, stamped it with a seal which he had in his pocket, signed it and then handed it to Santo. True personal service for services rendered.

This validated Santo's return to Hungary.

Now Santo is back in the United States. He has broken. We have the word of the Church World Service of the Protestant Episcopal Church that he was revolted by what he saw before and during the Hungarian revolt. That word is ample evidence.

But now that Santo has been shown charity, would it not be charitable on his part to say that he was so wrong when he ripped some of us apart, away back then? Not for old time's sake, but for the future.

And those channels, according to Santo's testimony in Washington some weeks ago, were none other than a man known as Joseph Peters—the same "J. This validated Santo's return to Hungary.

Now Santo is back in the United States. He has broken. We have the word of the Church World Service of the Protestant Episcopal Church that he was revolted by what he saw before and during the Hungarian revolt. That word is ample evidence.

But now that Santo has been shown charity, would it not be charitable on his part to say that he was so wrong when he ripped some of us apart, away back then? Not for old time's sake, but for the future.

And those channels, according to Santo's testimony in Washington some weeks ago, were none other than a man known as Joseph Peters—the same "J. Peters" whom the late Whittaker Chambers called the "Comintern rep" (Communist International Representative). Peters was Moscow's account executive in charge of the United States.

Chambers, in his testimony, identified J. Peters as his superior and "head of the underground section" of the Communist Party of the United States. Chambers, at that time said it was Peters who had assigned him to liaison and other duties with the party's underground in the nation's capital, and had introduced him to Alger Hiss and other Communists working in the federal government, according to the House Committee record.

History Today

Today is Friday, March 29, the 88th day of 1963. There are 277 days left in the year.

In 1632, the Treaty of St. Germain divided French and English claims in America.

In 1790, the man who became 10th president of the United States, John Tyler, was born in Greenway, Va.

In 1847, U.S. forces under Gen. Winfield Scott captured Vera Cruz, Mexico, and converted it into a base for Scott's march on Mexico City.

In 1939, the Spanish Civil War ended.

In 1945, the White House disclosed that the United States and the Soviet Union each would seek three votes, instead of one, in the United Nations General Assembly.

Today's birthdays:

Dramatist Howard Lindsay is 74. Singer Pearl Bailey is 45.

Thought for today:

No sadder proof can be given by a man of his own littleness than disbelief in great men—Thomas Carlyle.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Today I'm wearing dark glasses to work for the second time in three months. Why? Because last night my husband opened the cupboard door and accidentally caught me right square in the eye.

No, he didn't hit me on purpose. He never does—or at least so he says. Since our marriage three years ago I've had four shiners, two loose teeth and numerous bruises. He's not mean, just careless.

The teeth loosening happened like this: He was helping me put away a can of sauerkraut on my face. Another time we were doing spring cleaning and the mop handle accidentally slipped out of his hand. I saw stars. Please tell me what I can do about this—LIVING DANGEROUSLY

Dear Living—or should I say, Dar Lucky—are you living. Has it ever occurred to you that these calamities all seem to happen when your husband is helping you with the housework?

It may be that he subconsciously resents "being housework" and these accidents are his way of getting even. If you need help hire a woman on a part time basis. It's cheaper than store teeth.

Change of Heart

Dear Ann: I am 23 years old, not hard to look at and have never had any trouble attracting males.

About eight months ago, I broke up with a fellow I'd gone with for over a year. It was terribly hard on me because I was deeply in love with the guy.

Two months later one of his best friends asked me for a date. I accepted and made it plain that I was through with love for a while and that we would be just pals.

He has kept his part of the bargain beautifully—in fact TOO beautifully. I wish now I hadn't said anything because I've fallen for him—and hard. But he shakes hands with me at the end of the evening—like in the receiving line at a church party. I honestly believe ours could be the longest kissless romance on record.

Another month of this brother-sister act and I'll crack up. Help! Please!—ANNABELLE.

Dear Annabelle: Since this young man seems to be an expert at following directions you'll have to let him know, subtly, of course, that the signals have been changed.

Tell him you've completely recovered from your heartache and that you want to give love another chance.

Reaction Immature

Dear Ann: Our 22-year-old son was married two months ago. He and his lovely wife (who is also 22) live about 600 miles from here. He brought her to our home last weekend for the first time!

Now the problem: We showed movies after dinner—old family pictures taken over the last several years. There were a few minutes of an old reel which showed our son with a former girl friend.

The bride was terribly hurt and went to her room and cried. I say we were inconsiderate not to have anticipated this. My husband said she should have been adult about it. Our son snapped, "Why wasn't that reel thrown out?" Frankly nobody thought about it.

How can I make amends? I want our daughter-in-law to like us. This is a frightful beginning. Please help. MRS. W. L.

Dear W.L.: I see no reason for your daughter-in-law to have become unglued. Her reaction was immature. The girl who should be crying is the one in the old movie—not the happy bride.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions, Answers

Q — I have had psoriasis for eight years, and have tried many drugstore remedies without success. Is there any cure?

A — Psoriasis is a chronic skin disease that is very resistant to treatment. Fortunately, it does not produce any scarring and does not affect a person's general health. Almost every known drug has been tried, but until very recently results have been disappointing. Now there are two creams for local application that in a large proportion of sufferers clear up the spots in two or three weeks.

One contains fluocinolone acetate (Synala), which is one of the newer steroid hormones. The best results are obtained when, after applying the cream, a moist cloth is used to cover the area and the cloth is covered with oil paper or cellophane to prevent drying. This is not a cure, but, after the spots have cleared the disease can be kept under control with fewer treatments.

The other cream contains anthralin allantoin (Anthryl Cream).

It must not be used on acutely inflamed spots or near the eyes.

Q — Can anything be done for a keloid tumor?

A — Although keloids are usually hard, fibrous, raised scars resulting from injury, they may form spontaneously or following an injury so slight that the victim is unaware of it. They were very common among the Japanese survivors of the atomic explosions in World War II. Since their tendency is to form in scars, it does no good to cut them out. They would almost surely form again in the new scar.

Treatment with X-ray has been tried, but results have not been uniformly successful. Injections with the enzyme, hyaluronidase, once or twice a week have also been disappointing. The treatment that has shown the most promise is injection every two or three weeks with hydrocortisone.

Q — Please explain the connection between a blood cholesterol reading of 430 and dizziness and fainting spells.

A — Such a high cholesterol level may be associated with thyroid deficiency, diabetes, kidney disease, liver disease, hardening of the arteries, and xanthomas (a type of fatty tumor). Your dizziness and fainting might be caused by one of these conditions, or How Brave Are You?

An accelerated rate of business growth is expected for Lorain, and a broad area in northern Ohio as the result of a $22 million harbor expansion project begun in 1962. Broadening and deepening the channel and other improvements are expected to increase the port's share of world trade made possible by the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Center of Industrial America Continues to Grow

The Lorain harbor improvement project is one of a number of developments during 1962 that indicate the progress of The Center of Industrial America, the area served by the Ohio Edison System (Ohio Edison Company and its subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power Company).

Ohio Edison Company's annual report to stockholders emphasizes this continued economic development which includes not only public improvements such as those in the Lorain harbor but also the steady expansion of existing industrial plants and establishment of new plants in the area.

Future benefits to this area may be anticipated from the fact that about 450 miles of the limited access Federal interstate and Defense Highway System, including portions of the present Ohio and Pennsylvania Turnpikes, will be located in the System's service area. Approximately one-half of this mileage is already in service.

The Center of Industrial America continues to maintain its position as one of the leading industrial sections in the nation. From industries served by the Companies have come components for the successful Telstar project, equipment for the Project Mercury space flights, missile fuels, missile guidance systems, nuclear reactor components, and many other "exotic" products.

During 1962 eighteen major new industrial plants and expansions of existing plants — those involving capital expenditures of $1,000,000 or more each — were announced. The total capital expenditures of $87,790,000 involved, continues a trend which, since 1954, includes a total of 126 such projects involving estimated capital expenditures of over a billion dollars.

Future electric power supply was further assured by the completion of the W. H. Sammis Plant project. Begun in 1956, this is the largest power project in the Companies' history, and with its four generating units, the plant now has a total capacity of 706,000 kilowatts.

Other Highlights from the 1962 Annual Report to Stockholders

System Operating Revenues in 1962 were $176,905,798, up 7.4% from 1961.

Kilowatt-Hours of Electricity Sold increased 7.8%.

Electric Customers Served at the end of the year totaled 700,959, a gain of 13,266.

Provision For Taxes—Federal, state and local — was $44,993,251, equal to about 25¢ of each dollar of revenues received from customers.

Wages Paid to all employees, including fringe benefits, were approximately $43,049,000.

Additions and Improvements to Property—for power plants, power lines, substations, transformers, poles and many other items of equipment—exceeded $33,900,000.

Ohio Edison's annual report covers the combined operations of Ohio Edison Company and its subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power Company. A copy of the report may be secured at any Company office or by writing M. W. Thernes, Secretary, 47 N. Main St., Akron 8, Ohio.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Save children's odd socks! If your child wears pajamas with footies attached and walks around the house before going to bed, just put some of these odd socks over the footies.

Remove when the child goes.

to bed — nice clean footies! Stretch socks seem to work best for me.

MRS. M. A. VLASAH

DEAR HELOISE: The best way I have found to preserve rubber gloves is to hang them up separately by the edge of the cuff. I use clip-type clothes pins on a wire hanger, and keep it in my kitchen. My gloves last much longer.

MRS. HARRY BLOOM

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint for keeping extension cords neatly stored. Take the cardboard roller of waxed paper or foil and place the folded cord in the roller.

I cover my rollers with adhesive-backed paper which can be bought at any dime store in many colors and patterns. No more tangled cord.

FAITHFUL

DEAR HELOISE: When I wash my blankets I put one cup of sudsy ammonia into my washing machine — no soap — fill the machine up with warm water (not hot), turn off the washer and put in the blanket. I let this soak about 20 minutes.

I then turn on the washer and let it go the rest of the cycle so it will rinse.

The blanket comes out clean and soft with no soap film to leave a harsh finish.

M.B.

DEAR HELOISE: A paper bag taped to the sewing machine makes it easier to keep threads and bits of material from going on the floor. Much easier than trying to "hit" the wastebasket.

REATHA JACKSON

DEAR HELOISE: My family loves fried fish but they don't like the fish odor that seems to last for days. Now I soak the fish in lemon juice for about 20 to 25 minutes, roll in meal, fry in deep fat — no odor.

JOAN

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a simple way to empty my vacuum cleaner which does not utilize disposable bags.

Instead of emptying the contents onto a newspaper I place a sack over the open end, turn the vacuum bag over and shake the bag while it is inside of the paper sack. Then all one has to do is roll down the top of the sack and throw it away. No mess, no dust in the air.

DEAR HELOISE: We use cornstarch to clean fuzzy stuffed animals. We just rub the cornstarch in on the fuzzy part and let it stand a few minutes and then brush out the cornstarch and the toys are clean once more.

We use the cornstarch as it comes out of the box . . . dry.

Kennedy indicated that by the end of March the U.S. government would have a clearer idea of what the Soviet withdrawal amounts to. Presumably this was one matter to be taken up by the White House strategy group — holding its first session since Feb. 5 — although Andrew Hatcher, assistant presidential press secretary, declined to say in advance what the group would consider.

Administration authorities also showed rising concern over the free lance raids by Cuban refugees. Reports from Miami Thursday said two anti-Castro groups, Alpha 66 and the Second National Front of Escambray, are preparing still another assault.

Two Soviet ships in Cuban harbors were attacked by anti-Castro raiders March 18 and 26. The U.S. government has officially condemned the forays as ineffective, irresponsible and tending only to strengthen the Communist grip on Cuba.

While the Kennedy administration tended to look the other way when such attacks have been made in the past, authorities said the situation is different now that he Soviets have become so heavily involved in Cuba. They said the raids could have the unwanted effect of stiffening Soviet intentions to stay on in Cuba.

Fairfield Ruritan Hear Talk By Native of Cyprus

Kyriacos Markides of the island of Cyprus, a sophomore at the University of Youngstown, was guest speaker when members of the Fairfield Ruritan Club met Thursday evening at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana.

Markides told of the problems of agriculture in his native land and plans for conservation. He stressed the shortage of water on the island and told of the plan to melt the snow on the mountains and let the water flow into irrigation ditches.

Majoring in business administration, Markides plans to return to Cyprus upon completion of his studies.

Peter Grossen told of his recent Caribbean tour.

Members of the club conservation committee were in charge of the program, with John Elder as chairman, assisted by Howard Wise, Edgar Bell, Homer Royer and Ben Weingart.

Gary Wiims is chairman of the youth committee which will be in charge of the program at the next meeting April 25 at Heck's Restaurant. The board of directors will meet April 9 in the home of John McGehanan.

Business

Heller dropped the hint so guardedly that reporters did not pick it up. National production, he said, should total $578 billion to $580 billion in 1963. His January forecast was $578 billion.

Administration sources said today that Heller's phrasing was deliberate and significant. National output could go $1-billion to $2-billion higher than was forecast only 2½ months ago; the $578 billion figure is now in the lower range of expectations.

The improvement should create enough new jobs to absorb the year's crop of new entrants to the labor force, it was estimated, but not enough to take up any of the idle capacity in industry or reduce the unemployment rate from the unsatisfactory area of 6 per cent. It was 6.1 per cent last month.

There will be no letup, therefore, in Kennedy's pressure on Congress for tax reductions as business stimulant, officials emphasized.

They pointed out that a total output of $580 billion would represent only a $26-billion increase from last year—very slightly more than the $25-billion rise in 1962 which failed to prevent rising unemployment.

A spring upturn is suggested by the leading indicators, a group of business indexes whose changes generally anticipate the direction of up or down trends in the economy as a whole.

Of the 17 such indicators so far available for February, all but four showed rises. This was the best showing since the late summer of 1961 when the business recovery was gaining momentum—a momentum that diminished in 1962.

The signposts which point up include a longer work week, a drop in new claims for jobless pay, a rise in permits for new housing starts, a decline in business failures, an upturn in the stock market and a gain in long-range buying orders for production materials.

The leading indicators fluctuated widely from month to month throughout the second half of last year, however, and led some economists to predict a recession in early 1963 instead of the "mild, moderate and inadequate expansion" foreseen by the President's council.

Government economists are reluctant to pin their faith on the leading indicators until it becomes clear whether their February upturn was just another jog in the seesaw movement or a genuine trend.

Relief

Gray, R-Miami, asserted such was not the intent of the bill.

Other futile amendments were offered by Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, and Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning.

Several Democratic senators from large cities objected that the bill, which has the support of State Welfare Director Denver L. White, could cost metropolitan areas even more for poor relief than they are paying now.

Cities feel they may have an influx of relief-seekers who could move into their counties because of higher relief payments and become eligible for the higher payments immediately.

HEARING SET FOR BOY

LISBON — A hearing for a 16-year-old Lisbon area youth will be held Monday at 3 p.m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for auto theft.

The youth allegedly stole a 1959 convertible from Kathryn Thomas, East Liverpool, last Monday evening and drove it to Kilgore where he was apprehended by Carroll County deputies.

Ship

"I could tell they were MIGs, but what type of MIGs I cannot say."

The ship was flying a 4x6 foot American flag at the time, he said.

"The shooting was deliberate," said Jote Teitelbaum, agent for the line owning the 400-foot Floridian.

"This ship was a scapegoat to counteract Alpha 66."

Alpha 66 is an anti-Castro group which has been making hit-run commando raids on Cuban ports—attacks which some U.S. officials fear may fire up another U.S.-Soviet crisis.

The Floridian docked here at 7:05 a.m. Before it reached the dock, four Navy intelligence officers went aboard to interview Olson and the 24 Americans in the crew.

"The jets came out of the sun, made seven passes and fired four bursts," said the cook of the Floridian, who declined to give his name.

"There were tracers all over the place and over the bow of the ship."

The Floridian left San Juan at 6 p.m. Tuesday with a refrigerated cargo. Immediately after she docked, huge gates opened in the stern and the job of unloading refrigerated cargo began.

Teitelbaum said the vessel would leave here at 6 p.m. on the return to San Juan.

The ship radioed the Coast Guard about the attack. The message described the attack this way:

The two aircraft swooped out of the east, one flashing over the ship at about 200 feet. A gun burst of about 30 rounds ripped into the Atlantic some 100 yards from the bow. More shots kicked up plumes of water in its wake. The ship was traveling at about 17 knots.

The planes then vanished into the west.

U.S. Navy fighter planes from Key West, Fla., alerted by the Coast Guard, screamed into the area. But when they arrived "there was nothing going on," said one Washington source.

The State Department in Washington announced the incident. Officials there said they had no other details.

The Floridian's owners, the South Atlantic and Caribbean Lines of New York, said the ship was carrying 35 refrigerated trailers of food and has a crew of 24 including the captain, Charles Olsen.

Last month two MIGs with Cuban markings shot at—and missed—a U.S. shrimp boat whose engine had conked out and was drifting in the Florida Straits 60 miles from the Cuban coast.

The United States fired off an angry protest against what it called "this unprovoked and willful attack" and President Kennedy ordered the Pentagon to ensure that action would be taken against any attackers on U.S. vessels or planes in international waters off Cuba. The Castro regime denied any of its planes had fired on the shrimp boat.

Wetzel Seeks State Aid For Soldiers

COLUMBUS—Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, introduced a bill in the Ohio House on Thursday to provide state matching funds for soldiers' relief.

Wetzel said the Soldiers Relief Commission now derives all its funds from a half-mill levy. His bill calls for 50 per cent matching by the state under the Public Welfare Department.

Robbery

the lawmen nabbed him and his buddies.

The valuable coins, other cash and cigar boxes containing rolls of money were stashed into an old pillow case in Dailey's car.

Lawmen closed in on the suspected armed robbers after Columbiana County officers became suspicious of the license plates on four cars which pulled into the truckstop in early morning.

Dinsio, Dailey and Marshall and three others loaded into two cars and drove off, apparently toward the Pennsylvania line.

At 3:15 the six returned and VanFossan and his five deputies and Lt. Orlando DiLullo, assistant chief Mahoning County deputy and two aides, closed in.

While checking Dailey's convertible, driven by Marshall, VanFossan found a clue which prompted him to call Weirton police and inquire of a possible robbery.

Weirton police at that time were not aware of the armed robbery at the Costalas home, since he had not reported the incident to police.

The other three men with the arrested trio were released after questioning. One was the brother of Amil Dinsio, James Dinsio of Franklin Ave., Salem, and another faces federal trial for possessing counterfeit money.

Both Weirton and Wheeling police are expected to file charges; Weirton for the armed robbery of Costalas, and Wheeling for a burglary March 16 of Allen Sales, Inc. in that city.

Weirton officials have indicated they plan to begin extradition proceedings immediately, although a decision has not been reached on whether Ohio or West Virginia will prosecute first.

Meanwhile, Mahoning County Sheriff Ray T. Davis reported today that bench warrants have been issued by Common Pleas Court Judge Erskine Maiden for the return today of Amil and James Dinsio to Youngstown with the possibility of withdrawing their bonds.

The two men have been free on $2,500 bond from Mahoning County since the grand jury there indicted them last November in six counts of receiving $21,500 in stolen property.

The sheriff is urging that the bonds be revoked so the men can be kept in jail until the time of their trial. Since their release on bond the two brothers were apprehended in Pittsburgh Jan. 9 and charged with stealing tools and released also on $2,500 bond from the Municipal Court there.

USW District Conference Set In Youngstown

A conference of District 28, United Steelworkers of America, will be held Saturday and Sunday in the Pick-Ohio Hotel, Youngstown.

District 28 includes five sub-districts, including the Salem area sub-district comprising steelworkers locals in North Lima, Canfield, Columbiana, Salem and Sebring.

The expected registration at the conference is between 800 and officers and grievance committeemen of 131 local unions in Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and Columbiana Counties.

Approximately 60 men of the Salem area sub-district will attend the conference.

International President David J. McDonald will address the conference banquet Saturday evening.

Union officials announce the purposes of the two-day meet are: for the giving of a report of stewardship by District 28 directors James P. Griffin; discussion and formulation of union plans, policies and courses of action designed to meet future problems; and the election of eight members to the National Wage Policy Committee.

176 Donors Sought for Visit Here of Bloodmobile April 18

Recruitment has started for 176 donors for the Cleveland Regional Bloodmobile's visit to Salem April 18 from 12 to 6 p.m. at the United Steelworkers Hall, 547 Prospect St.

Louis J. Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program, said that although the quota is 125 pints, it is necessary to overschedule to be assured of meeting the quota. There are some deferrals by doctors, and often many donors fail to appear for their appointments. Because walk-ins normally are fewer at this location, it is hoped for a heavier than usual factory worker registration.

Kenneth Rogers of Salem Tool, general industrial recruitment chairman; Carmen McNicol, gentleman; Mrs. L. B. Biehler, co-chairman of residential recruitment, and Ms. Oliver Davis are already at work in an effort to make the quota.

The blood quota was not met at the last two visits of the blood-mobile, but widespread influenza was a deterring factor.

Salem collected 120 pints Feb. 18. The March 21 collection at Lisbon netted 119 pints. Salem should collect 136 pints to protect the chapter average, Raymond said.

The Women of the Moose will manage the canteen, and provide the food. Mrs. Arthur Stark will serve as chairman.

Appointments can be made by calling the Red Cross office.

Sniffing Glue Results In Boy's Death

FREEMONT, Kan. (AP)—Stanley Duncan's life ended at 19 while he was sniffing glue.

Everybody said he wasn't the type.

"It can't happen to you, you always tell yourself," says his mother, "but it can and it does and I pray Stanley's death will help some youngsters and parents to realize that it can."

Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Duncan, had gone to Harper, 10 miles away, the day he died—March 15. When they returned Howard Duncan found his brother's body.

A plastic freezer bag was over Stanley's head. Glue was found in the bag. Suicide has been ruled out.

Dr. A. R. Edmundson of Harper said Stanley apparently breathed too much of the glue and suffocated "He died a violent death," Dr. Edmundson said.

Thousands of youngsters have found they get kicks from breathing fumes from glue used for model airplanes. You can buy a tube for a dime.

The fumes damage the liver, lungs and frontal lobe of the brain and bone marrow where blood cells are formed.

In high school, Stanley lettered in football, basketball and track. He attended a year of college, then dropped out to start farming with his father.

"He wasn't a problem child. We never had any trouble with him all the time he was growing up. Usually you can tell if your kids are up to something, but this was a complete shock," said his father.

Beery's Three Records Lead Salem's Final Statistics

Marlin Waller Had 'Best Eye'
Quakers Post 72.2 Average Per Game

By MARK W. MILLER
News Sports Editor

With a few breaks, Salem cagers could have established a 22-1 record (or better), final 1962-63 statistics reveal.

A fabulous three-year career was enjoyed by Bill Beery who completed the season by setting three school records.

The Quakers, under the direction of John Cabas who ended his 13th campaign at the helm, posted, a 15-7 mark, and outscored their opponents 1,589 to 1,314.

Beery set the all-time Salem record of 1,156 points for three seasons. He tallied 401 points in 18 clashes and upped that margin to 488 during four tournament tilts for his other marks.

He broke Jack Alexander's four-year-career total of 1,050, and Woody Deitch's single season record of 461. Dave Hunter, one of the top guards in the Southern Conference League for William and Mary College, collected 401 points in 18 games for the Red and Black, but one of the frays was in tourney action.

Beery led his team with a 22.1 average. He also hit on 48 per cent of his shots from the field, and 68 per cent from the foul line.

Marlin Waller led Salem in both field goal and foul shooting accuracy. He tried 184 floor shots and swished the nets 90 times for 49 per cent. He also canned 74 of 106 free throws for 69 per cent.

Besides total points and scoring average, Beery's 135 assists set up many of the Quakers' easy two-point baskets. He and Bob King each participated in 87 quarters of action, to lead their teammates in this department.

King, 6-5 star, was the top rebounder, with 373 to his credit an average of 16.9 per game. Beery was next with a 9.1 average as he cleared the boards of 200.

SALEM SET the school scoring record when the Quakers trounced Youngstown South 107-71. The Quakers averaged 72.2 points per game, while holding their opposition to 59.7.

Coach Cabas said, "We could easily have had a 22-1 mark, or maybe even better if we had won the close ones." The Quakers lost two games by three points and on each by two, four, five and eight.

Coach Cabas' record at Salem jumped to 204 victories and 66 defeats.

Graduating in June will be Beery, King, Waller, Rick Platt, Rich Sweitzer, Dave Capel, John Zilske, George Buckshaw and Larry Deitch.

PRIMER TO PARALLEL SKIING

Worthington Pitches Reds To 3-2 Victory

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Allen Worthington, the honest man's pitcher, seems a sure bet to go North with the team when the Cincinnati Reds finish spring training.

The 33-year-old righthander retired 15 straight New York Yankees Thursday and gave up only one hit in seven innings against the world champions. The Reds won 3-2 in 11 innings.

That hit was a ground ball single by rookie Jake Gibbs, who scored on a walk, a fielder's choice and an infield out, tying the score at 1-1.

Worthington caused quite a stir in 1960 when he quit the Chicago White Sox after charging that they were stealing catchers' signs and relaying them to batters by way of the scoreboard.

Cincinnati gambled $25,000 on Worthington's stuff and scruples last winter by drafting him from Indianapolis.

"I saw him several times when he was with the Giants and I was managing the Cardinals," said Manager Fred Hutchinson. "He was a good pitcher, beat us several times. I remember him more as a fast sliding pitcher. Now he has developed a good curve ball and a knuckler."

He said he didn't think Worthington's scruples about sign-stealing will lead to any trouble.

"He looks upon it differently than I do," the Reds manager said. "But he doesn't have to worry about that with us. We don't do it."

Thursday's game was Worthington's third start, and he missed out on the victory when Gibbs' run tied the score.

Bill Henry took over as the game went into extra innings. The veteran lefty too the victory when the Reds broke through on Bud Daley, the fourth New York pitcher.

Tommy Harper singled and Ken Walters' pop-fly double gave the Reds their 10th victory in 20 games.

The Reds play the Philadelphia Phillies today.

Not even Allan Worthington would deny that for a pitcher whose record shows 33 victories in seven seasons, Allan Worthington has had a stand-out major league career.

Ten years ago he stood out on the mound, standing the batters on their ears, pitching shutouts in his first two major league games. Two years ago he strode out of the Chicago White Sox camp by way of protesting sign-stealing methods he considered unethical.

Now, at 34, Worthington is back with Cincinnati, trying to resume where he started. He made a strong pitch for a job Thursday, limiting the New York Yankees to one hit in seven innings as the Reds won the exhibition at Fort Lauderdale, 3-2 in 11 innings.

Worthington broke in with the New York Giants in 1953, pitching a two-hit shutout against Philadelphia and following with a four-hit shutout against the Brooklyn Dodgers. He never again was that effective, posting a winning record only in 1958 when he was 11-7 for the Giants.

Two shutouts were posted in other games. Ernie Broglio and Diomedes Olivo each allowed Milwaukee one hit in a 3-0 St. Louis triumph at West Palm Beach, and Harvey Haddix and Tommy Sisk combined for a four-hit job as Pittsburgh blanked Baltimore 6-0 at Miami.

Minnesota edged Kansas City 3-2 at Bradenton the Los Angeles Angels nipped Cleveland 4-3 at Palm Springs, Washington defeated Detroit 5-4 at Lakeland, Houston blasted Boston 12-4 at Scottsdale and the Dodgers whipped the New York Mets 4-2 in 14 innings at St. Petersburg.

Chicago Has 2-0 Lead In NHL Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago has a 2-0 lead in its best-of-7 Stanley Cup series and is in trouble.

Toronto has a 2-0 lead in its semifinal series and is expecting trouble.

That's the unlikely situation today in the National Hockey League playoffs as the two sets switch sites to Detroit and Montreal for the third and fourth games. Toronto is at Montreal Saturday and Tuesday, Chicago at Detroit Sunday and Tuesday.

"My prediction Trouble," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach after his defending champion Maple Leafs Thursday night.

Chicago scored a 5-2 triumph over Detroit, but it may have been a costly one. The already-battered Bobby Hull, Chicago superstar and one of three players ever to score 50 goals in a season, sustained a 10-stitch cut across his nose.

Hull, troubled with an injured right shoulder, had been scheduled to miss the first two Hawk playoff games but played and starred in each. He scored twice in the opener, wiped out a 1-0 Detroit lead with his third goal of the series Thursday and just before his mishap set up Bill Hay with another goal.

Hull was injured when Mac Gregor whirled in a corner and Hull dashed in low, catching the stick across his nose.

In Toronto, Imlach particularly criticized his defense and star left wing Frank Mahovlich, despite the Leafs' second straight victory.

"You saw Mahovlich out there," he said. "He certainly isn't playing as well as he could."

Dave Keon, a will-of-the-wisp center, steered in a shot in the middle period that broke a 2-2 tie. Aging Johnny Bower made it stand up the rest of the way, fighting off a mild Montreal rally in the third period.

Will Shift Held During Late Innings

Tebbetts Plans To Alternate Indians To Get More Man Power During Season

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Versatile Woodie Held is likely to be shifted from the infield to the outfield in late innings of Cleveland games when a strong arm is needed.

Indians' Manager Birdie Tebbetts demonstrated his tinkering technique in Thursday's 4-3 loss to the Los Angeles Angels.

Woodie had been playing second base. In the ninth inning, with the tying run on second, Held was transferred to right field to replace weak-armed Gene Green.

"Now if I had a good arm in right, say if Willie Kirkland is playing there," said Tebbetts, "I'd move Woodie to left field in place of Tito Francona in the same situation, because Tito's arm is just ordinary."

Another late-inning move Tebbetts disclosed he is contemplating would be to put Jerry Kindall, the regular second baseman last season, on first base.

"Suppose it's late in the game and I need a runner for Joe Adcock," said Birdie. "I can put Kindall at first and he'll cover half the ground to second base and now I've still got Fred Whitfield to pinch hit."

"I'm going to utilize all the manpower I have."

The Indians lost the game to the late-charging Angels in the ninth inning when Los Angeles tagged Barry Latman for three runs.

Latman has been hoping to become a starting pitcher but has been ticketed for the bullpen along with Gary Bell. "One thing for sure," said Tebbetts after the loss, "Latman didn't pitch himself into a starter."

"Ordinarily I would have taken Barry out with a left hander, Charley Dees, at the plate," said Birdie. "But I asked around and nobody knew anything about Dees and Barry's family was in the stands. So I let him stay."

Dees smacked a two-run pinch single and the Angels were home with their 14th victory, seven of them coming in the last inning.

Mentors Blast Poor Officiating

High School Coaches Sound Off On Eve Of State Cage Tourney

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 41st state high school basketball championship tournament got underway today amid blasts by scholastic coaches against "poor officiating and home floor advantages" in sectional, district and regional play.

Paul Walker, Middletown's "coach of the year" and long-time secretary-treasurer of the basketball coaches association, predicted a real deluge of criticism at the mentors' 10 a.m. Saturday session.

But the 16 directors, at a Friday night meeting which lasted into the morning's 233 hours, had plenty to say—ord Commissioner W. J. McConnell had several answers for them.

Walker, winner of five state championships, touched off the tinder when he declared:

Tired Of Being Good Loser

"I'm tired of being a good loser. I spend five months getting a team ready, and then two officials from over the mountain move in and cost us a ball game, kicking us out of the tournament."

"There must be politics in the selection of these guys, but we work hard and have to put up with them. Rules clinics are held all over the state, and they come up with different interpretations. Some of the officials assigned are too young and too inexperienced and too inefficient, yet we are at their mercy. They make a farce of the regional and state tournaments, and with their hammy antics take the game away from the kids."

Under association rules, arbiters of regional games must come from some other part of the state. Walker's team, No. 1 in the state poll all year, lost to Urbana by two points in the Cincinnati regional.

McConnell chimed in with: "The further you go in the tournament, the tougher it is to lose a game. You coaches vote for the officials use, each of you picking the 10 best you know, and we select from your list. We've used every type of procedure you've suggested for selecting the officials, and you are never satisfied. If you coaches would pick the best officials you know, instead of making a popularity contest of your 10 selections, maybe we wouldn't have so many objections."

Landis Gives Comments

Paul Landis, assistant to McConnell who spent 27 years as official and coach, added:

"This game will be ruined unless you coaches change your philosophy on officials. You are driving high-type professional men from the officiating field by your antics. We've had more complaint this year than any season I can remember. The human element enters into this—we'll always have officials making mistakes, just as you coaches make mistakes."

John Cabas of Salem also objected strenuously to some of the officiating, and observed: "Coaches are not official baiters, but in tournaments we are playing for the blue chips and deserve the best we can get."

Tom Thatcher of North Robinson Colonel Crawford, president of the cage coaches, cooled things somewhat with:

"I have lost some tough ones, but I've always told my boys that no official ever beat us."

D. J. Mittiga of Kent Roosevelt suggested that one official, instead of two, be used "to cut the mistakes in half," but the idea got little response. Thatcher appointed a committee to confer with McConnell on how and when arbiters should be selected, with Cabas, Lee Himmenger of Aversville and Daryl Dolan of Youngstown Boardman as the personnel.

Some Objections To Home Floor

Some objections to sectional, district and regional tournaments being played on the home floor of one of the competing teams were lodged, but McConnell said there was no way to alleviate the situation. Delphos St. John, one-point loser to Lima Senior on the latter's floor, is expected to carry its home floor objection before the entire coaches' association at Saturday's meeting, and Charles

No All-Star Game Again

Last year's All-Star game at Newark was cancelled because the NCAA would not approve the setup, and all agreed it's too late to arrange a contest for this June. The state association has refused to approve the North-South fray because of lack of jurisdiction over the graduated players.

Cabas urged that the state tournament be returned to the old status of 8 or 16 teams in each class instead of four, but got only a head-shake from McConnell.

And George Heller, coach of champion Trojans, suggested a closer regional might be found for his team in the future.

"We had to go 240 miles to Canton, and it cost our students $7.50 cab fare," he said. "Why can't we hold the regional for the eastern, southeastern, central and one northeastern team in Columbus?"

McConnell said it probably would be that way next year, if the State Fairgrounds Coliseum is available.

3 Changes Are Made In Pirates Infield

Bucs' Mazeroski Takes Over As Team Captain For Season

By FRANK ECK
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — At the age of 26, Bill Mazeroski has taken charge of the Pittsburgh Pirates infield — by default.

The Pirates have traded away the rest of the veteran infield that produced a world's championship for Pittsburgh only three seasons ago.

Holler guy Don Hoak went to the Phils, studious Dick Groat to the Cardinals and slugger Dick Stuart took his sometimes inept glove to Boston. So the smooth fielding Maz was chosen team captain by Manager Danny Murtagh.

Maz never went in for yelling like Hoak and maybe he couldn't hit behind the runners like Groat or slug home runs like Stuart. But the Pirates couldn't have picked a more serious student of the game than the native of Wheeling, W. Va.

he show any outburst on the field. That was when his home run ended the 1960 Series against the Yankees. He jumped the last 90 feet home.

"I think we'll be better defensively in the infield," Mazeroski began when asked to sit up the chances of the team that finished fourth, eight games back in the '62 National League baseball race.

"Donn Clendenon at first is a much better fielder than Stuart. In fact Stuart never could get going last year and Donn hit .302 in 80 games.

"Dick Schofield at short has a little more range than Groat had. And we all remember the job he did in the last month of 1960 when Groat was out with a fractured hand. Schofield is only 26 and he's enthused about his first real opportunity.

ONLY ONCE in his career did "BOB BAILEY, our new third baseman, has got pretty good hands. He is only 20 and knows how to get rid of the ball in a hurry. His arm isn't as strong as Hoak's but he's quick. I think he'll turn into a pretty good hitter, too. He had 38 homers and 108 runs batted in at Columbus.

"Remember, we lost by only eight games. The year before the Giants finished eight games behind and last year they won the pennant.

"We could have won the pennant last year except that Joe Gibbon, who won 13 in '61, won only 9 and Vern Law took only 10. Gibbon jammed the middle finger on his pitching hand sliding and Law had arm trouble. When you lose two fine pitchers you get hurt.

"Look at our staff now. With Don Schwall from Boston and Don Cardwell from the Cubs we have eight possible starters. (The others are Bob Frind, Earl Francis, Al McBean and Harvey Haddix.)

"If we had this pitching staff last year we would have won the pennant."

THE PIRATES ALSO have Tom Sturdivant who can start and relieve, a flame throwing rookie in Bob Veale and a young new relief ace in Bob Priddy who won 10 while appearing in 53 games for Columbus.

Their outfield seems set with Roberto Clemente, Bill Virdon and Bob Skinner with Bob Savage in reserve. Catchers behind solid hitting Smokey Burgess are Jim Pagliaroni and Elmo Plaskett.

As for infield reserves the Pirates have Julio Gotay, Johnny Logan and Gene Alley, a rookie up from Columbus and Asheville, N. C.

While Bailey is the most highly regarded rookie in camp, Captain Maz also enthuses over Alley's fine fielding at short, and the hitting of first baseman - outfielder Willie Stargell, who hit 27 homers and .276 at Columbus.

MAZEROSKI WAS a bit of a leader himself last year even though Groat was team captain. Maz led the Pirates in runs batted in with 81, six more than Skinner and seven more than Clemente.

"But I should have hit better," says Maz. "I was around .285 and dropped to .271 in the last two weeks. Wouldn't that have been something if I went the other way and hit .300?"

Celtics 135-132 In NBA Playoff

BOSTON (AP)—Confident Cincinnati, a team with momentum, has the jump on Boston's old pros in the Eastern Division playoff finals thanks in large part to Oscar Robertson and reserve Hub Reed.

Cincinnati returns home for the second game of the National Basketball Association tonight after whipping the Celtics 135-132 Thursday night in the opener of the best-of-7 series.

The Western Division finals between Los Angeles and St. Louis gets under way Sunday at Los Angeles.

Robertson scored 29 of his 43 points in the Royals' big second half, clicking on 68 per cent of his field goal tries.

"Reed played the big part in the second half," happy Cincy Coach Charlie Wolf said afterward. "He did a great job guarding Bill Russell. I don't believe Russell scored a point while Reed was in there."

"You can't play 24 minutes and expect to win," said Celtics star Bob Cousy, referring to a strong Boston first half when the five-time champions led by as much as 20 points.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The pictures of those four wrecked automobiles should be clipped out and studied by everyone who drives. The most careful can become involved in a serious accident.

Driving is not a right we have, it is a privilege as long as we don't abuse it. No one has the right to drive in a manner that endangers the lives of others. This point system is a step in the right direction but too often disaster occurs before the reckless operator has enough points against him to be ruled off the highway.

No Ladies Left

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's quite easy to make a kitchen-sink housewife out of a lady," said Alfred Hitchcock positively, "but you can't make a lady out of a kitchen-sink housewife."

"You can always take a thing down, but you can't take it up."

Film's chubby master of suspense was off on one of his favorite topics—the shortage of real ladies in Hollywood.

"I don't think there are any ladies left on the screen," he said, fingering a cool glass of luncheon champagne as he looked with glowing appreciation at the dish before him—a hot chicken pie.

"In its heyday we had nothing but ladies. I have in mind ladies like Norma Shearer, Carole Lombard, Irene Dunne Myrna Loy, Garbo, Ingrid Bergman.

"An artist to be a real artist has to have range."

Sitting at the film director's side was his latest discovery, Tippi Hedren, an ex-model who is featured in his latest thriller.

Tippi is slender, blondely beautiful, and looks like a younger sister of Grace Kelly. She is hopeful that her association with Hitchcock will prove an escalator to stardom, as it proved for several other actresses, including Princess Grace and Vera Miles.

Although the mystery master has turned out some 50 films, the Academy Award for directing has always eluded him—a loss which doesn't seem to grieve his placid spirit much. He doesn't regard the winning of Oscars as his real task in life.

"I don't have any real frustrations," he said cheerfully. "My biggest problem, if any, is the so-called students of the cinema. You can never quite satisfy them completely again once you've been discovered. They're always looking for something more."

Hitchcock is quite satisfied going on with his real goal in life—to entertain people by scaring them.

"Why do I scare them?" he asked. "Because they demand it. They want to be scared. They love it."

"Children love to be scared, too, in the games they play. They like to go up in a swing, scaring the hell out themselves as they go higher and higher and higher."

He turned then to the subject that is dearest to his heart next to films—food. This diet's dieter ranges in weight from 185 pounds to a soaring 297. Right now he's around 205 to 210, depending on the time of day.

Asked to name his favorite meal, he began:

"Two roast chickens with ham, any fresh vegetables available, stuffing made of green parsley, suet and bread crumbs, mixed chicken and beef gravy, only slightly thickened, and—"

The look of cherubic joy suddenly faded. He paused, unwilling to go on with this kind of self-torture.

"I'm trying to take off 15 pounds right now," he explained.

HOSTESS TO CLASS

Mrs. John Ewing of RD 1, Lisbon, will be hostess to members of the Women's Missionary Society of the New Lebanon United Presbyterian Church at 10 a. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Hare will be leader of the topic, "The Church in Hong Kong."

REASSURING HANDCLASP — A fireman holds the hand of Thomas Taylor, 19, who was trapped in his crushed auto at Visalia, Calif., with his dead wife, Shirley Ann, beside him. Seventeen cars and one truck were involved in the accident on Highway 99, main north-south artery in California.
